Yuriy Ryzhenkov, Chief Executive Officer of Metinvest Group:

"Last year's metallurgical crisis affected Metinvest's operating and financial performance, which in turn affected the Group's tax payments to the Ukrainian budget. Ensuring a consistently high contribution to the country's economy, Metinvest hopes for a balanced approach by the state to taxation of large businesses, and especially mining and metals companies, which are going through one of the most difficult periods in the modern history of Ukraine."
